Local Records: In the United States anyone can have access to the records of any Real Property. The Real Property is usually recorded in the County records where Local Records runs powerful on-line searches to find the Deed of millions of people throughout The United States and gathers at the same time several Characteristics of the property such as: Property Characteristics, Property History, Sale Loan Amount, Assessment and Tax Information, Nearby Neighbors, Comparable Sale Date, Neighborhood Demographics, Private and Public Schools reports, Plat Map, and others. Those are sent to thousands of new property owners.

Real property is property that includes land and buildings, and anything affixed to the land. Real property only includes those structures that are affixed to the land, not those which can be removed, such as equipment.

Real Property Records are generally filed with and kept on a county level; they originate from two major governmental sources: County Recorder's or Courthouse and Property (Tax) Assessor's offices.

Property Title refers to a formal document that serves as evidence of ownership. Conveyance of the document may be required in order to transfer ownership in the property to another person. Title is distinct from possession, a right that often accompanies ownership but is not necessarily sufficient to prove it. In many cases, both possession and title may be transferred independently of each other.

Property deeds are legal instruments that are used to assign ownership of real property, to transfer title to the land and its improvements such as a house. Words used to convey property transfer may be grant, assign, convey or warrant, but they basically all do the same thing, they transfer the interest of the person selling the house to the person buying the house.

Types of property ownership:

- a) Sole Ownership: The simplest form of property ownership, sole ownership grants one individual complete rights over the property in question.
- b) Tenancy by the Entireties: When a married couple purchases real estate together, they are granted tenancy by the entireties by many states. This means that each party holds one-half interest in the property, but neither can dispose of or otherwise abridge the right of the other to the property.
- c) Tenancy in Common: This form of ownership allows multiple people to own a percentage of the same property. While the percentage owned may vary, each person has an equal right to the property during their lifetime. If one of the tenants in common dies, their interest in the property passes to their heirs; it does not devolve to the other tenants in common.
- d) Joint Tenancy: Joint tenancy agreements require that four conditions be met: ownership must be received at the same time, tenants must hold an equal interest, tenants must each be named on the title, and all must have exactly the same rights of possession. Unlike tenants in common, joint tenants have right of survivorship; the ownership of the property passes to the remaining joint tenants in the event of the death of one of the owners. One joint tenant can buy out another, or legal proceedings can be instituted to dissolve the joint tenancy. If one participant sells his or her interest in the property to another person, the joint tenancy is converted into a tenancy in common, and the right of survivorship is no longer valid; the other tenants have no recourse against this action by one or more of their number.
- e) Community Property: In some states, real estate purchased by a married couple becomes community property. This form of ownership basically creates a condition where the real estate (and other property, if applicable) is owned by the partnership created by the marriage. If the marriage is dissolved through divorce, the value of the property must be divided between the partners. Community property ownership may give right of survivorship, essentially giving the entirety of the property to the surviving spouse in the event of death; other forms allow the partners to leave their interest in the property to their heirs after they die.
- f) Tenancy in Severalty: Absolute and sole ownership of property by a legal entity, without cotenants, joint-tenants, or partners.
